Justice

Two men who had been friends in their youth met years later in the police court of a great city, one of them on the Judge's bench, the other in the prisoner's dock. Evidence was heard and the prisoner was found guilty. In consideration of their former friendship the Judge was asked to withhold sentence.

"No" he said, "that cannot be. Justice must be done and the law upheld." So he gave sentence: "50 dollars fine or fourteen days at hard labour."

The condemned man had nothing at all to pay with, so prison was before him. Then the Judge having fulfilled his duty, paid the fine, put his arms around him and said; "Now, John, you are going home with me for dinner."

Thought

Not even God can overlook sin. God must be faithful and just. But for us, the Judge was crucified. He now invites us to the banquet of the Eucharist to share his very own life.
